Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

A Nurse's Terrible Deed.

Rosa Naegle, a governess and nurse of Berne, Switzerland, returning to New York from a visit to her native land, suddenly became a maniac on the Holland-America steamship Nieuw Amsterdam which arrived at New York yesterday from Rotterdam and Boulogne.

On the afternoon of the fifth day out from Boulogne, November 15, in mid-ocean, while the liner was plunging through white-crested three-storied seas the young governess saw on the deck below her a group of children of the second cabin playing ring games. Some of their mothers, who could stand the motion of the ship, were sitting near by. Miss Neagle ran down to the children and began dancing with them and singing, in German. Occasionally she picked up one of the smallest and held it arm's length above her head while it crowed and gurgled.

She seemed to be especially fascinated by one-year-old Aaron Gnoowski, who was too unsteady on his legs to form a link in the juvenile circle and contended himself with a place to one side.

The governess grabbed up the baby and ran to the ship's rail and laid the little one on it. The mother ran toward Miss Naegle just as the governess, with a laugh heard over half the ship, raised the child and tossed it into the sea.

Then the governess turned to the mothers and let out a series of shrieks that sent them and their little ones scampering for protection.

It was thought that she intended to make a sea sacrifice of others as she ran after the children, but before she had gone half across the deck she was seized by officers, who locked her up.

She had gone stark mad.

A lifeboat was quickly launched and manned by volunteer sailors but all their efforts to rescue the child were fruitless.

Killed by a French Woman.

Gustave Simon, president of the Queen Waist Company, in New York, was shot by a French woman, Mme. Anastasie Louise de Massy, yesterday afternoon in his office, on the sixth floor of the Holtz building, at 604 Broadway, and died last night.

Mme. de Massy has been working for Mr. Simon as a waist designer and went to his office at 3 o'clock to collect wages due her, she told the police.

Mr. Simon was sitting at his desk talking with O. H. Travis, one of his salesmen, when Mme. de Massy, black haired, black-eyed, pale, tall and a well-dressed woman of 37 years of age, opened the office door and walked in. Simon looked up, recognized her as a designer who had quit her job last Friday and asked her what she wanted.

"I want my money," she said.

"You will have to come back at 5:30 o'clock," said Simon.

"No; I must have it now," said Mme. De Massy.

"Well, you won't get it now," said Simon, turning to Travis.

The woman turned around and stepped out into the hallway, fumbling at a pocket in the skirt of her tight-fitting black dress. Simon went on talking to Travis and neither of the men noticed that Mme. De Massy was still just outside the office door, still fumbling with the pocket. The next thing they knew she was standing in the doorway with a revolver in her hand, eyes flashing, face flushed, evidently furiously angry. Before she could be seized she fired three shots. Two went wild, but one bullet entered Simon's body below the shoulder blade. Mme De Massy was arrested. Mrs. Massy today alleged that her shooting of Simons had been prompted by the relief that he had been instrumental in causing the death of her husband by poisoning three years ago.

Pope Threatened.

The Pope has received personal letters containing threats that he will be assassinated in the Apostolic Palace as a protest against the present organization of society. The anarchists, it is added, are ready to employ every means to destroy all religious institutions supported by military forces.

The Pope has kept one of the nails which formed the charge of the bomb exploded Sunday in St. Peter's as a souvenir of the explosion.

The threatening letter received by the pontiff shows that the anarchists who exploded the bomb in St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday had been detailed to attempt to assassinate the Pope. The long-time fuse of the deadly machine was probably lighted by the anarchist during the service in the expectation that the Pope would go to the tomb of Clement XIII. to pray, as it had been reported he would. The scaffolding concealed the bomb.

It was reported last night that the man suspected of causing the explosions in St. Peter's and the Cafe Aragno had a woman accomplice who carried the bombs. She is said to have lighted the fuse of one inside St. Peter's while pretending to kneel in prayer, but no clues have been found that would lead to her or her principal's arrest. The government has offered a reward of $200 for their capture.

Whisky "Quarts" are Short.

Commissioner Yerkes, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has issued a circular letter to collectors, saying that recent reports show that bottled-in-bond spirits are being placed on the market in bottles stamped and sold as containing one quart, which in some instances are found to be short in measure as much as two ounces to a bottle, the government stamp thus being made to show a quantity of spirits in excess of the actual contents of the bottles. In view of this fact, every distiller who is engaged in bottling spirits in bond is required to at once provide himself with a standardized glass graduate and see to it that the bottles used are of the required capacity. Storekeepers are instructed to see that this regulation is carried out.

Severe on Woman Suffragists.

There will be no such demonstrations by woman suffragists in Germany as have occurred in England if the authorities are able to crush the movement by rigorous court proceedings. The hand of the powers was shown yesterday in the trial of Miss Anita Augspurg, leader of the women's rights movement in Hamburg, when a penalty of a year's imprisonment against her was asked for interfering with and insulting policemen who broke up a woman demonstration. Miss Augspurg violently opposed the interference of officers and the latter attacked the women with drawn swords. Several women were slashed in the affray.

An Archbishop's Warning.

Archbishop William H. O'Connell was heard yesterday for the first time since his consecration as coadjutor archbishop at the dedication of St. Patrick's Church, in Lowell, Mass. Archbishop O'Connell, referring to the Lowell neighborhood as a great industrial center, said in part:

"When inordinate greed for wealth presses the laborer beyond endurance, then work becomes slavery, and slavery is the mother of revolt. If with increased wealth, with prosperity which floods the land as if God were showering His blessings upon the nation, hand in hand went a corresponding gratitude to God, all would yet be well. But when men's hearts grow only harder when the blessings of heaven fall on stony ground, thorns and thistles grow instead of wholesome grain. The dangers which are now confronting us and which, if men do not have a care, will assume alarming proportions, are in reality nothing new, they are but the repetition of the evils of paganism which Christ came to heal. The lessening of labor and the increase of wages will never in themselves settle the eternal unrest of humanity. The blame is not with any one class—the fault is general and is daily increasing."

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1. JEWELRY.

THE DINING-ROOM

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your own self begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 20, 1906.

AS WAS stated in yesterday's Gazette, the Court of Review of the Episcopal Church at Buffalo, N. Y., has affirmed the decision of the Ecclesiastical Court at Batavia which recently suspended Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey for heretical teaching. There is no appeal from this decision. It is hard to understand how the appellate court could have done otherwise in face of the facts in the case. The accused rector was found guilty of impugning the doctrine of the divinity of Jesus Christ, the doctrine of the Blessed Trinity and the doctrine of the virgin birth of Jesus. And, finally, he was found guilty of violating the following vow, taken at his ordination as a priest:

I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; and I do solemnly engage to conform to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

Will you be ready, with all faithful diligence to banish and drive away from the Church all erroneous and strange doctrines, contrary to God's Word; and to use both public and private monitions and exhortations as well to the sick as to the well, within your cures, as need shall require and occasion give?

Answer—I will do so, the Lord being my helper.

A DISPATCH from London says:

"A dicker between the United States and Great Britain for the exchange of the Philippine Islands for Newfoundland and Jamaica is on, according to reports which come to the correspondent of the Publishers' Press from a high diplomatic source. The initial suggestion came from England and the United States government showed willingness to discuss the proposal. It is believed Jamaica would accept the change, but a hitch might occur when Newfoundland's consent was sought. It is also likely that Canada would object."

There is little chance of England giving up any of the possessions named above, but if the United States could be induced to trade the Philippines for a yellow dog and then kill the dog it would be the best thing that could happen for this country. The Philippines have been a drain upon the money and men of the United States since they were purchased from Spain.

AS THE facts in connection with the brutal murder of Miss Grace Brown and the casting of her body into Moose Lake, New York, are brought to light, the crime appears to have been heinous in every detail. It is similar to the murder of Miss Lillian Madison in Richmond twenty years ago for which Cluverius was convicted and hanged. The motive in the Moose Lake affair is akin to that imputed to Cluverius. Chester E. Gillette had monopolized the company of Miss Brown, and the time had arrived when he should have made her his wife, but having tired of the girl he determined to lure his unsuspecting victim to the lake where, it is alleged, he beat her to death and cast her body into the water. While high heaven is calling for vengeance upon the perpetrator of such a crime, we are told that women are daily sending flowers to the man who has thus imbrued his hands in the blood of a trusting member of their own gender.

IT IS stated that nothing was decided upon in Richmond yesterday at the conference between the railroad men and the State officers concerning the presidency of the R., F. & P. P. R. R. Company and the swallowing bodily of that road by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The State officials should be on their guard when they have dealings with the Pennsylvania company and yield not a single point. This company is one of the most grasping corporations in the country; is a wily antagonist and is out for gain at all times. When the "amicable arrangement" was made some time ago by the "six railroad companies" for the operation of the R., F. & P. road the knowing ones knew that that was the beginning of the end of the Virginia road if the Pennsylvania company were given a free hand. Beware of the Pennsylvania.

THE republican majority in the next House has been considerably reduced, but is still larger than necessary for any legitimate purpose. The Senate will assume that the large majority at the other end of the Capitol is a verdict of the people in favor of "standing pat," and it will look with no more favor on a commercial treaty with Germany than on the commercial treaties thus far negotiated. The result will be more than probably a tariff war with a nation that bought $234,000,000 worth of our products in the last fiscal year.

THE New Jersey legislature has only three republican majority, and the three are republican reformers, who may join on some questions with the democrats. The corporations and trusts who shelter in Jersey had better prepare for trouble this winter.

WORN OUT from almost three days and nights' constant service, a Pennsylvania Railroad crew of seven men recently fell asleep while on their way from Franklin Junction to the railroad yards in Phillipsburg, N. J. The men were returning with an engine and caboose, and when at a point near Belvidere the crew fell asleep. At that place the telegraph operator had a red signal against the engine, but no notice was given to it, so he telegraphed to Martin's Creek, seven miles ahead, to be on the lookout. The operator there could not attract the engineer's attention, and when the engine passed the station the operator jumped on and found the crew asleep. It was discovered that the boiler had been badly burned and might have exploded. At several switches the engine narrowly escaped running into other trains. The above incident may explain the cause of many accidents in this strenuous age. Many railroad companies regard men as they do locomotives. The life-time of the latter is fixed at ten years, but men are pushed until they fall in the harness. While many philanthropists are interesting themselves in child labor, prison reforms, &c., it would be well for them to examine into the treadmill lives of certain railroad men.

THE express companies exist and maintain inordinate rates for the public service they render through the tolerance of the railways, and this tolerance exists because the railways to a large extent own and control the express companies and share the profits in their overcharges. Late developments go to show that the earnings of nearly all the express companies are out of all proportion to investment and the value of the property owned by them and necessary to the conduct of their business. As their business is to a large extent interstate traffic, it is certainly within the province of the federal government to interfere in behalf of the suffering public and enforce some proper relation between the actual cost of service and the price exacted from shippers.

THE WHEAT raisers are beginning to inquire where the trust protecting tariff helps them with the price hovering around 60 cents a bushel in the local markets, but the republican standpatters have not yet discovered a satisfactory answer.

THE New York republicans will not have much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving, for all their ticket was defeated but Hughes, and most of the leaders are afraid he will turn out to be a white elephant on their hands.

Washington, Nov. 20.

An investigation of the fire insurance companies that have failed to pay their policies in San Francisco is to be made by George E. Butler, of Ross, California, under the direction of Commissioner of Corporations Garfield. Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor ordered the investigation this morning. It is one of the results of his trip to San Francisco, where he went to investigate the Japanese school problem. Several foreign insurance companies and some of those in the United States have failed to settle claims of losses due to the fire which followed the earthquake. Attorneys representing policy holders have gone to Europe to endeavor to obtain settlements.

Her first appearance in an evening gown may be the last for Miss Louisa Moncheur, fourteen-year-old daughter of Baron Moncheur, Belgian minister to the United States. She is ill of pneumonia, contracted at the wedding of her stepmother's sister, which was the first big social event she ever attended. She was allowed to dress as her elder sisters and the cold that she contracted has developed into the more serious disease so that practically no hope for her recovery is offered by the physicians.

The R., F. & P. R. R.

The conference to determine whether the interest of the State in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad is to be placed at the mercy of the Pennsylvania system was held in the private office of Governor Swanson, yesterday, in Richmond. The Governor, with the State board of proxies; President George W. Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio; Samuel Rea, third vice-president of the Pennsylvania, and the man whose action has caused all the trouble to the State; Judge Leigh B. Watts, Judge Leake, who has recently resigned as the official head of the road and whose successor the Pennsylvania purposes to name; A. J. Conti, Rea's first assistant, and Alexander Hamilton, general counsel for the Atlantic Coast Line, were among those present.

A. P. Thom, general counsel for the Southern, represented that line in the absence of President Spencer, who was detained by the annual meeting in Cincinnati. Col. John B. Purcell, an individual stockholder in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, was present as a representative of the stockholders.

The absence of the president of the Southern, who had expressed himself as inclined to do all in his power to protect the interests of Virginia and the stockholders, was disappointing to the representatives of the State.

While no definite information relative to the result of the conference leaked out, recent developments in the situation justify the presumption that the names of Judge Leake, F. W. Scott, of the brokerage firm of Scott & Stringfellow, and C. E. Doyle, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio, were mentioned in connection with the presidency. Judge Leake, it is understood, is the first choice of the State proxies.

It is said that the railroad men were conciliatory and the meeting was harmonious. There is hardly a doubt that it was made clear by the governor that Judge W. J. Leake would be the first choice of the State for president of the road, in which it owns so valuable an interest. Anything else than a fair action toward the State in this matter would cause an imbroglio between the State and the Pennsylvania Railroad that would be fought out in the legislature, possibly to the great danger of all interests.

Judge Leake has not signified his willingness to again become president of the road, but it is confidently believed that in order to ameliorate the situation in which the State finds itself he would not decline.

At noon the conference adjourned, to meet again in Richmond December 10. The election of Judge Leake's successor was postponed until December 11.

The meeting of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac stockholders, which was to have been held immediately following the conference, was also necessarily postponed until the day of the December conference.

It was learned yesterday afternoon that as a result of the meeting the capital stock of the road would probably be increased enough so that the dividends upon it would keep the earnings of the company within the 15 per cent. limit. In the charter of 1835 is is provided that whenever the earnings of the road shall be in excess of 15 per cent. of the capital stock the rates and tariffs shall be lowered. Some years ago it was found that the road was still earning more than the 15 per cent. dividend. In order to keep this down $1,072,000 of dividend obligation stock was issued. The six roads—Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern and Seaboard Air Line—now own 9,400 shares of the original voting stock, against 2,700 shares owned by the State of Virginia, and so have control of the company.

As the increase in stock was found serviceable before, it is believed now that the same method will be tried again.

The dividends derived from its stock by the State are now being put into a sinking fund to pay off the State dept, which is, in round numbers, $25,500,000. The dividends on the State stock last year amounted to something more than $40,000.

In case the Pennsylvania and allied railroad interests refuse to accede to the wishes of the State in relation to the choice of a president, Virginia has several means of retaliation. The charter, which was granted in 1884, and remains unchanged, provides thas it shall be the road's duty at all times to "transport to any convenient place of delivery on the road, which the owner of the goods may indicate, and there to deliver all articles which shall have been delivered to them for transportation, or offered to them in proper condition to be transported, at some place on the road convenient for the reception thereof." A similar provision applies to passengers. Thus the State, if it saw fit, could, under the old charter, cause the management of the road considerable trouble.

Terrible Experience.

After the terrible experience of being locked up for six days and nights without food in an icehouse, from which he could not escape, his only companions being hundreds of rats, Carl Hammond, an aged tramp, is today in the German Hospital at Williamsburg, N. Y., a wreck. Scant hope is entertained for his recovery. The old man was rescued from his prison when children heard his groans and called a policeman. Hammond struck Williamsburg a week ago Sunday, tired and without a place to go. He saw the icehouse and entered. While Hammond was asleep a carpenter nailed up the door of the icehouse. Hunger and thrist drove him nearly wild. Then came the rats. At first he fought them off. Then as his strength failed he could no longer do so.

The Gillette Trial.

Gillette has told his counsel that he has every confidence in his ability to convince the jury of his innocence, and that it was the shame of a fatherless child which led Grace Brown to take her own life. Gillette will tell the details of his relationship with Grace Brown from the time of their first meeting until she fled in terror that last fateful night on the lake when she plunged with a cry into the water because he told her that they had reached the parting of the lovers' lane.

The prisoner has carefully rehearsed in his cell the story he will tell on the witness stand. He says he is ready to meet the searching inquiry of the prosecution's cross-examination.

Counsel for Gillette do not believe the State has any evidence which will cause them to change their present plan of putting Gillette on the stand.

Gillette's perfect confidence in himself and his cool nerve when the State brings damaging testimony against him, has caused his counsel to feel that he will make a good witness and because of his story, well told, creates that saving element—a reasonable doubt.

Miss Frances Brown, sister of Grace Brown, was a witness today, and identified the clothing of her dead sister, which she wore the day she was drowned. Tearfully the sister told the jury that she had helped Grace make the clothes which were to be the wedding trousseau. Mrs. J. M. Crum, of South Otselic, a dressmaker, identified several pieces of clothing which she said she had made for Grace Brown before she left for the Adirondacks with Chester E. Gillette. The testimony indicated that Grace Brown believed that Chester Gillette might marry her up to the last day on the lake and that she was preparing for the wedding. Mrs. Brown, mother of the drowned girl, sobbed bitterly as she saw piece after piece of the clothing picked up and identified as belonging to her child.

The story of a lover's waning affection was told today in the correspondence of Grace Brown and Chester E. Gillette, introduced in evidence against Gillette. The letters disclosed the fact that Gillette had tired of his sweetheart, who was about to become a mother, and wanted to get rid of her. The girl clung to him to the end and begged him to save her from the shame of her life. Gillette listened to the reading with tears in his eyes. His head rested in his hand and he displayed his first emotion in the trial. These letters were found in Gillette's room and in the trunk.

District Attorney Ward read the last letter which showed that Gillette had sent for Grace Brown to take the trip to Big Moose. It was a letter filled with deep emotion.

Caruso Preparing for Trial.

New York, Nov. 20.—Signor Caruso, Italian tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is preparing for his arraignment in Yorkville police court tomorrow on the charge of annoying a woman in the Central Park monkey house on Friday. He is working his temper up to the exploding point. Caruso is mad and he proposes to let everyone know it.

Today Caruso had a lot to say, denying almost everything in connection with his arrest. Caruso's lawyers will try to show up the park police system.

The police, too, are doing considerable work, while not talking as vigorously as Caruso, and say they will have a few sensations to reveal at the hearing. They promise to produce "Mrs. Graham," the woman who made the complaint against Caruso. The latest report is that this woman is a personal friend of Cain, the arresting detective. Cain is being backed by high officials of the police department and the court battle is sure to be interesting.

Killed in Automobile Accident.

New York, Nov. 20,—Following the fatal termination of the last drive of Tom Cooper, dare-devil automobile chauffeur, in Central Park last night, it brought a romance of the chaffeur's life. Miss Helen Levick, the only one of Cooper's party to escape fatal injuries, it is now believed, was really the bride of Cooper, who was supposed to be a confirmed bachelor. Two lives have already paid for Cooper's terrible drive through the park and it is expected another of the party will die soon. Cooper was instantly killed when his machine dashed into a stalled car on the narrow path. David Barkalow, a cotton exchange broker, died soon after the accident and Miss Helen Levick, an actress, is in Roosevelt hospital with a factured skull, and other injuries. No hope is entertained for her recovery.

Postal Cards for Boni.

Atlantic City N. Y., Nov. 20.—A girl who evolved the idea of avenging the treatment of Countess de Castellane by venting her spite on Count Boni with an illustrated post card has started a fad that promises to swamp the count with tokens of American disapproval. Starting with the one card on which Boni is reminded that he is now a "dead one" dealers along the Board walk assert that hundreds of cards to be used for the purpose are being purchased by smiling maids and matrons to be mailed to the spendthrift nobleman. Beside the "dead one," card, that appears most popular, others call the attention of the Court to his financial state with "You're all right, but you're broke," "When father goes to work," and other similar reminders.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Nov. 20.—It will be before Recorder Goff that the fight for the life of Harry K. Thaw will be waged. Recorder Goff is the judge who tried the famous cases of Roland Molineux and Albert T. Patrick. District Attorney Jerome and his assistant, Garvin, appeared before Recorder Goff, today, and asked for a special panel of 150 names from which to select the Thaw jury. The jury will be ordered to report on December 3, and there seems little doubt now that the trial will start without further delay on that date.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 20.—The stock market showed a firm tone through the first hour, with an aggressive buying in a number of stocks in which important developments are supposed to be pending. The Standard Oil interests are known to be important factors on the bull side of the stocks that have been marked leaders for the last nine days.

Runaway Train Wrecked.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 20.—With the whistle tied down and waking the echoes in the mountain valleys with a wierd shriek fast freight No. 72 on the Southern Railway sped down the mountain side for ten miles at a speed of seventy miles an hour and then left the track in a wild plunge of death and destruction.

Conductor J. G. Wolfe and Fireman Horace West, both of Asheville, are dead and Engineer Joseph Doherty and Brakeman William Rowe, also of Asheville, are believed to be fatally injured. The freight is a mass of debris.

As the train started down the steep mountain grade the air brakes on the engine failed. Doherty reversed his engine and whistled for hand set brakes. The crew raced to the car tops, but before the brake shoes had caught on a single car the train had gained such a momentum that nothing could stop it. Every man of the crew stuck to his post trying to stop the train until the train had gathered such a momentum that it meant death to jump. Then Doherty tied down his whistle and with West prayed for deliverance from the fate which they knew to be inevitable. Conductor Wolfe ordering his brakemen to continue setting brakes hastened forward to see if he could be of any assistance with the engine crew when the crash came. The train whizzed through Point tunnel seventy miles an hour, with the men lying flat on the cars to keep from being sucked off by the friction of the air. Out again into the open the train dashed and then the leap over an embankment on a sharp curve. The train rolled over and over carrying trees and telegraph poles with it as clean as though a giant scythe had been at work. Not a man of the crew escaped injury, and that all were not instantly killed is regarded as a miracle. It is believed that at least two tramps are buried in the wreckage, as they were seen on the train, but no trace of them has been found.

As the train started down the mountain operators along the line heard the wierd shriek of the whistle, and interpreting it ordered the track cleared. The result was that the freight encountered no other trains and a much greater loss of life was prevented.

Butcher's Shop Dynamited.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 20.—A dynamite bomb was hurled against the entrance of a butcher shop kept by Dominick Bellessino in the Italian quarter, early today, shattering the front of the two story brick building and smashed every window in two rows of Italian tenements. Scores of Italians were thrown into a panic. Rushing from doorways, men, women and children ran wildly into Canal street. The police have arrested one suspect in connection with the explosion. Dominick Bellessino is regarded as one of the wealthiest Italians in the colony along lower Main street. About six weeks ago he received a mysterious letter demanding that he leave $500 in a certain secluded spot or suffer death with his entire family.

Fire at Stockton.

Stockton, Md., Nov. 20.—Fire which started here late last night threatened to destroy the entire town. The fire started in the store of P. E. Wharton and a terrific explosion occurred which completely wrecked the building and sent the flames in every direction.

The fire spread rapidly and it was only through the heroic work of the firemen and citizens that prevented the complete destruction of the village. Clarence Parsons, a clerk for P. E. Wharton & Son, who was asleep in the building at the time of the fire, was burned to death. The loss is estimated at $60,000 partially insured.

Sandbagged and Robbed.

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 20.—While passing under the Lackawanna Railroad bridge, at Monmouth street and Hoboken Avenue, this morning, Floyd Kibler, 15 years old, a Standard Oil Company messenger, on his way to the First National Bank, was held up by four boys who knocked him unconscious with a sandbag and robbed him of $1,200. The boys fled and have so far eluded the police.

Perkins, $1,000; John D. Rockefeller, $200; E. H. Gary, $1,000; James B. Ford, $2,500; Otto Bannard, treasurer of the county committee, $2,500; Anson Phelps Stokes, $10.

THE METHODISTS.

In opening the religious exercises of the Virginia conference of the M. E. Church South, at Portsmouth yesterday, Bishop Hendrix enjoined the preachers who were to quit old charges and go to new ones to stop "miserable" letter writing to former charges and discrediting the influence of their successor.

Presiding elders and conference secretaries will hereafter be excused from preaching at conferences.

Rev. James Cannon, of the committee for evangelistic work at Jamestown, made a report endorsing the proposition to hold evangelistic services during the exposition, the conference accepting no liability for any fixed sum.

Conference minutes, $410.65; increase, $105.

The temperance committee recommended that Methodists throw their influence at the polls on the side of temperance. "We deem it important to the moral and material interests of our church and our commonwealth," says the report, "that the men elected to political office shall be men of decided temperance convictions, who will give their aid to the overthrow of this mighty power of evil, and that we will seek only such for official positions."

The next conference will be held at Petersburg on the Wednesday after the second Sunday in November, 1907.

The appointments were made and the conference adjourned. The following are among the appointments, Gordonsville, G. W. Watkins; Orange, C. C. Wertenbaker; Woodville, to be supplied: Culpeper, F. L. Wells, 1; J. M. Burton, supernumerary; Culpeper circuit, A. S. J. Rice; Rappahannock, H. J. Brown; Westmoreland, H. H. Smith; Montross, C. O. Tuttle; King George, C. F. Hobday; Spottsylvania, G. H. Ray.

The Eastern Hospital.

Two reports have been made of the investigation into the affairs of the Eastern State Hospital, and they were signed yesterday afternoon in Williamsburg. The majority report has been filed with the governor and released for publication. The minority paper will be filed today.

The majority report praises the hospital staff. Dr. Foster and his assistants are warmly commended in a lengthy document. Minor reforms are suggested. The report denies the existence of graft and warmly delends Dr. Williams. New buildings are recommended.

Bloodshed and riot last night at Williamsburg came near playing an important part in the Eastern State Hospital investigation which ended yesterday afternoon. About 150 men and boys inimical to Dr. Foster, superintendent of the hospital, gathered after dark, and having purchased a coffin, decorated it with candles, and marched from one end of the city to the other, singing songs and jeering at the name of Foster. Finally they marched past the residence of Dr. Foster, and attempted to burn the doctor in effigy in front of the house. As the procession reached the doctor's front door, he jumped upon the pavement with a pistol in his hands, and leveling it at the pall-bearers exclaimed: "If you move another step I will drop six of you." The crowd dropped the coffin and ran. A policeman arrested two of the pallbearers who were taken before Mayor Warburton who recognized them to appear before him today.

In the meantime Dr. Foster's friends had gathered to his help, and arming themselves with pistols and shotguns, gave notice that they would shoot down any one who approached. Finally Miss Foster, the daughter of Dr. Foster, fainted from excitement and Dr. Foster ordered that the coffin should be removed, which was finally done.

A Query.

Though we may leave the old State we never forget her. I see that some of her sons are as hard to convince now as they were forty odd years ago, only now they are on the other side. The Spirit of the Valley is one of the best weekly papers in the State and while its editor is generally wrong on political questions he is a gentleman and neither shrinks from a hard blow, nor dodges a straight question. Now I want him to answer this: "If our industries need protection from cheap foreign labor, how is it that we beat all foreign competitors in the bid for the Italian battleships—a country that has the cheapest labor in Europe." Answer this query, Lewis, and let the voters of Virginia judge between us. A VIRGINIA FREETRADER.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

As stated in the Gazette's Washington correspondence yesterday, the U. S. Supreme Court decided the conflict between the two Virginia factions of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics in favor of the faction chartered by the State of Virginia and against the faction chartered by the National Council. The suit brought into question the constitutionality of the act of the legislature granting a charter. The State courts upheld the validity of the act, and their position was sustained by yesterday's opinion, which was delivered by Justice Holmes, who upheld the State charter on the ground that it had the right to exclude foreign corporations. One of the points raised by the National Council in the case was that the legislature had no right, under the national constitution, to alter the constitution of the order, which it had done by omitting the provisions for the protection of Americans from foreign competition, for the maintenance of the American school free from sectarian interference and the declaration favorable to Bible reading in the schools.

In his opinion in the case involving the Junior Order of American Mechanics Justice Holmes said:

"As the National Council has its branches elsewhere, and as the plaintiff is on its face a State organization, competition outside of the State appears improbable. So that the claim of the defendants comes down to a claim of right to compete with the State and a right of or in behalf of the Pennsylvania corporation, which controls the existence of its subordinate Virginia councils. Thus the question of the grant of the name passes over into the question as to the exclusive right of the plaintiff to issue charters which was the other legislative grant. The Supreme Court of Virginia was right, therefore, in treating the constitutional question as depending on the power of the State with regard to foreign corporations. That must decide the case. When the so-called property consists merely in the value that there might be in extending its business or membership into a State, that property depends upon the consent of the State to let the corporation come into the State. The State of Virginia had the undoubted right to exclude the Pennsylvania corporation and to forbid it constituting branches within the Virginia boundaries. As it had that right before the corporation got in, so it has the right to turn it out after it got in. It follows that the State could impose the more limited restriction that simply forbade the granting of charters to subordinate councils."

Men to be Furloughed.

According to a statement by Capt. Leutze, U. S. N., commandant of the Washington navy yard and superintendent of the naval gun factory located there, about 1,000 mechanics employed in the gun factory will likely be furloughed indefinitely about the first of next year. Capt. Leutze said that it would be necessary to lay off the men because of the fact that the last Congress failed to make any appropriation for building war vessels, and as the work done in the gun factory consists mainly of supplying the batteries for war ships, there would be nothing for a large majority of the men now employed in the factory to do. Nearly 2,000 men work in the factory when it is running to its full capacity. A number of Alexandrians are employed at the navy yard.

Will Not Prosecute.

Alvan Thurman, a soldier from Fort Hunt, charged with stealing a gold watch, chain, Masonic charm and a sum of money from a resident of New York who had been visiting Mount Vernon, was turned over to the commandant of Fort Hunt today, representatives of the man who had been robbed signifying their unwillingness to prosecute the offender. The money and jewelry were turned over to the owner.

Thomas Meadows, another soldier, stationed at Fort Hunt, who was regarded as a material witness in the case against Thurman, is in the guard house, at the fort, where he is serving out a sentence.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

George Stevenson and Mary Williams, both colored, arrested by Officer Garvey for disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each.

Charles Taylor and Annie Dishman, both colored, arrested by Officers Knight and Arrington charged with being drunk and disorderly, were fined $5 each.

The Weather.

Cloudy and colder weather is predicted for today by the official prognosticator although he has made the same forecast during the past few days. The temperature recorded at 8 o'clock last night was about 60 degrees, which is 17 above the season's average. For this season of the year in this locality it was exceptionally warm yesterday. The maximum temperature of the day—65 degrees reached at 3 p. m.—was 21 degrees above the season's average. At times the humidity was intense, making overcoats quite uncomfortable. The maximum temperature was 59 degrees at 8 a. m.

Won Bet and Lost Quarter.

Two residents of the southern section of this city were, it is said, devising ways and means, last Saturday, for passing the day as is their wont. Both were in their chronic condition exchequers empty. One finally bet the other that he could not borrow a quarter of a dollar from the proprietor of a nearby store. The challenge was accepted and the man whose credit had been questioned entered the store and returned with the coin. His companion upon seeing the piece pretended to be surprised that he neogtiated the loan so soon, and asked the man who had the quarter to let him test it, as doubted its genuineness. The coin was passed over to him and after it had been tested on the pavement and the "ring" pronounced satisfactory, the then possessor put the quarter in his pocket. It soon passed out of his hands however and, it is said, the man who had borrowad it was not even made a participant in the glee it purchased.

Field Trials.

The field trials of the Maryland and District of Columbia Field Trials Association will take place near Laurel, Md., on November 21, 22, and 23. This year it is reported that there are enough partridges around Laurel to give all the entries a chance to show what they can do. Frank M. Finley, Washington, treasure of the association, has recieved assurance of support from the best known gunners not only in the District but in Maryland. Mr. Finley thinks the struggle for honors this season will be unusually close.

Heavy Fog.

A fog has been hanging over the river from time to time since early Sunday night, rendering navigation difficult. The fog settled again over the river at the close of yesterday, and the steamers were sounding their whistles at short intervals. The same conditions prevailed this morning, it being impossible to see anything on the river a hundred yards away. The steamer from Norfolk, due at this port at 6:30 o'clock this morning, did not arrive until 10:20.

Accident to Ferry Steamer.

Some of the machinery of the ferry steamer Callahan broke down as she was leaving her dock at this place at 12 o'clock today and the steamer drifted down the river some distance. Several tugboats went to her assistance and towed her back to the slip. In consequence of the accident no steamer will run on the ferry line till tomorrow.

DRY GOODS.

Lansburgh & Bro

Washington's Favorite Store.

$7.50 White Wool Blankets

Size 60x80, at pair,

There's a story attached to this offering. A certain leading manufacturer had a contract to furnish to a large institution a certain number of 7-pound blankets. Now, this blanket is two pounds in excess of the usually heavy bed covering, and required a readjustment of the looms for its production. While the contract called for something over 1,000 pairs, the mill in order to make its usual percentage of profit, made 300 pairs in excess of this particular order. These are the 300 pairs we offer today.

Ponder over this: Two pounds more in weight than the usual heavy bed covering, and yet the price is what you would have to pay for a 5-pound one.

Old Virginia.

Mr. Christian Evensen, interpreter for Commissioner of Agriculture Koiner, gave the Journal a few words in reference to recent articles in which the advantages of Virginia as a place of settlement for home-seekers are questioned.

Mr. Evensen, replying said: "In all my travels, and I have been all over the United States, Canada, Mexico, and South America—I have failed to find any place offering greater advantages to the farmer than the State of Virginia and few which offer opportunities so great.

"I was very much incensed at these articles, and can declare every word of them utterly false. I have lived here thirty years, notwithstanding good offers to locate elsewhere. This is because I find the people kind and hospitable, the climate good, and the soil productive. Any foreigner desiring a location for himself and family cannot do better than to make inquiries of Commissioner Koiner. All this, of course, providing the man is of the right stamp, willing to work, and willing to help himself."—[Richmond Journal.

Boot With Bees In It.

Samuel Smith, of Maxatawny township, Pennsylvania, had a thrilling experience with bumblebees Saturday. He had a heavy pair of boots lying in an outbuilding during the summer, when the bumblebees, doubtless thinking that it would be a good place to hibernate during the winter, built a nest in one of the boots. Mr. Smith is a man who can charm a bushel basketful of wild bees but those that took refuge in his boot are of a peculiar type, and he got so much more than he was looking for when he tried to pull on the boot that it will be some time before the effects of all the stings will disappear.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 20, 1906.

Better Than Song.

A workingman, fond of his pint of beer on Saturday night, got very muddled sometimes. Knowing that his wife on such occasions searched his pockets, he, when not too far gone, used to secrete his money in various places, and it often happened that the next morning he could not remember the hiding place. He had a canary which used to hang in front of the window. One Sunday morning he was sitting looking at the bird when a neighbor looked in and inquired if he would sell it. As the bird was not much use for singing, he reached the cage down for his neighbor to look at, whereupon his wife got very angry and hung up the cage again.

"I will not have that bird sold on any account," she exclaimed. "I don't care naught about it being a poor singer, for it's laid many a sixpence and a shilling, and now it's begun to lay half crowns."

Then its owner realized where some of his hidden treasures had gone.—Pearson's Weekly.

Wells as Weather Prophets.

A popular idea in Switzerland that some of the wells in that country are reliable weather prophets has been proved by scientists to be well founded. These wells, by some sort of pressure, not clearly understood, have the property of drawing in air at certain times and of blowing out air at other periods. In order to ascertain definitely if there was any truth in the idea of weather prophecy the wells were covered and a small opening was surmounted with a U shaped pressure gauge. It was found that when the barometer rises the air rushes into the wells in a steady current, and when the barometer falls the air rushes out. The currents of air are definite and easy to perceive, even without the gauge. The general tendency of the weather is foretold with considerable certainty.—Chicago Tribune.

Animals and Rain.

It seems strange that no animal, unless it be the squirrel, seems to build itself a shelter with the express object of keeping off the rain, which they all so much dislike. Monkeys are miserable in wet and could easily build shelters if they had the sense to do so, but even the orang outang, which builds a small platform in the trees on which to sleep at night, never seems to think of a roof, though the Dyaks say that when there is much rain it covers itself with the leaves of the pandanus, a large fern.

Hairbrushes.

The brush trade is full of deceptions. An experienced hand will by touch tell if a broom or brush be all hair or a mixture. But if ever in doubt pull out or cut off a suspicious hair and apply a match. However well doctored, the deception will be shown at once. Hairs will burn, rolling up ball-like, with the well known smell of burned hair, while a vegetable substitute will consume, leaving the charred portion like a burned match.—New York Telegram.

Hall Trees.

A woman was much astonished to receive a letter from another woman asking for a slip of her hall tree. "I understand," she wrote, "you've got a good variety of hall trees, and as we've just finished us a new house with a real nice hall we'll need a tree, and we'd be ever so much obliged if you'd send us a slip uv your'n. And please will you send along with the slip directions tellin' us whether to water it from the top or bottom?"

Conundrums.

Visitor (to artist's young wife)—Whatever were you two laughing over so just now? Wife—Oh, it was such fun! My husband painted, and I cooked, and then we both guessed what the things were meant for.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Lost Opportunities.

"Why so?"

"Because they would have so enjoyed killing the umpire."—Baltimore American.

Self Respect.

There is no one thing so necessary for one's real advancement in life as a thorough self respect. You must think well of yourself, or others will not respect you.—Success Magazine.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years."
